

NICHOLAS N. RAY

nicholasnray.com

nnray@tamu.edu

Updated September 2026

Education

Texas A&M University

Ph.D. Student, Business Management

August 2026 -

Ph.D., Political Science

August 2021 - August 2026

Major: Comparative Politics; Minors: International Relations, Methods

Committee: William Clark (chair), Quan Li, Scott Cook, Thomas Flaherty, and Raymond Robertson

University of South Carolina

Bachelor of Arts, Political Science and Economics

August 2017 - December 2020

Publications

Book Chapters

Dunaway, Johanna and Nicholas Ray. 2023. “Communication Technology and Threats to Democracy: We Are \(Also\) the Problem.” In News Quality in the Digital Age, edited by Regina Lawrence and Philip Napoli. New York: Routledge.

Working Papers

Ray, Nicholas. 2026. “Explaining Compensation Failure: Trade, Partisan Collusion, and the Underprovision of Compensation.”

Simmons, Beth, Michael Kenwick, Junghyun Lim, and Nicholas Ray. 2026. “Crafting the Neoliberal Border: Infrastructure, Migration, and Transborder Trade.”

Works in Progress

Boivie, Steve, Michael Withers, Iqbal Farhan, and Nicholas Ray. 2026. “Trade Shocks and Governance Rhetoric.”

Ray, Nicholas. 2026. “Estimating Compensation Failure: How Much Has Compensation Been Underprovided?”

Ray, Nicholas and Erik Chi. 2026. “ADiDL: Improving Difference-in-Differences \(DiD\) Estimators by Incorporating Dynamics.”

Grants and Awards

Heep Graduate Fellowship Award ($30,000) January 2025 - December 2025

Hagler Institute for Advanced Study at Texas A&M with Hagler Fellow Dr. Beth Simmons

Conference Presentations

TexMeth 2026

Poster: “ADiDL: Improving Difference-in-Differences (DiD) Estimators by Incorporating Dynamics” with Erik Chi

Midwest Political Science Association (MPSA) 2025

Panel: “International Trade: Coalitions, Complexity, and Compensation.”

Paper: “Explaining Compensation Failure: Trade, Partisan Collusion, and the Underprovision of Compensation.”

American Political Science Association (APSA) 2024

Panel: “Graduate Students in International Political Economy” (GSIPE) Pre-Conference Workshop

Paper: “Explaining Compensation Failure: Trade, Partisan Collusion, and the Underprovision of Compensation.”

Teaching

Texas A&M University

Instructor of Record

Globalization and Democracy (POLS 328) Spring 2026

Teaching Assistant

Ordinary Least Squares (POLS 602) Fall 2024, Fall 2023

Maximum Likelihood Estimation (POLS 603) Spring 2024

Introduction to Research Methods (POLS 209) Spring 2023

Introduction to Political Science (POLS 200) Fall 2022, Spring 2022, Fall 2021

ICPSR (University of Michigan)

Teaching Assistant

Methods and Models for Time Series Data Analysis

Summer 2024

Panel Data

Summer 2025

Panel Data

Summer 2026